

LISTEN TO THE RAIN

Listen to the rain,
Listen to the rain,
Lonely faces stare at love no longer there,
And listen to the rain,

Listen to the rain,
Listen to the rain,
Memories bittersweet, always seem to greet
The falling of the rain.

I remember when
And how you made me feel
Running through the rain, knowing this was love
Knowing this was real.

I can feel your touch
Your touch so soft and warm
Holding me so close, the laughter in your eyes
As we shared the storm.

Rainy days were never blue
Cause there was still our love to do
The pitter patter up above
Would serenade our nights of love.

Now I hear the rain
I listen to the rain
Telling me that love so tender and so sweet
May never come again
Listen to the rain.

And sunny days that seemed so long
The starry nights each filled with song
How easily the time did fly
So why then did you say good-bye?
